

History

Struggling to Survive: Jewish Families in the Holocaust (unavailable online)
BRANA GUREWITSCH Volume 3, p.48

Familial Resistance in the Łódź Ghetto
Rachel Iksov, Volume 3, p.20

Understanding Jewish Life in the Shadow of Destruction: Teaching the Jewish Narrative
Yitzchak Mais, Volume 4, p.10

Lighting the Way for Others: Educators in the Warsaw and Vilna Ghettos
Chani Levene-Nachson, Volume 4, p.41

Mala Zimetbaum: “A Symbol for All Courageous Hearts”
Pnina Rosenberg, Volume 4, p.66

Camaraderie as a Form of Resistance in Auschwitz: Sophia-Esther Manela and Ewa Gabanyi
Pnina Rosenberg, Volume 4, p.76

Jews Who Rescued Jews: A Little-Known Aspect of Jewish Defiance
Mordecai Paldiel, Volume 4, p.84

The Mantello Rescue Mission
Judith Cohen, Volume 4, p.93

The Bergson Group’s Race Against Death
Rafael Medoff, Volume 4, p.112

The Two Missions of Hannah Senesh
Louis D. Levine, Volume 4, p.120

The Chance to Live: The Kinder and the Rescuers
Brana Gurewitsch, Volume 5, p.11

Rabbi Solomon Schonfeld: The Singular British Rabbi Who Saved Jewish Children
Rochel Licht, Volume 5, p.17

Auld Lang Syne: The Experiences of the Kinder in Scotland
Paula Cowan, Volume 5, p.24

Detour to Palestine: Youth Aliyah in Denmark, 1939–1945
Lone Runitz, Volume 5, p.30

From Dependence to Autonomy: Kinder, Refugee, Organizations, and the Struggle for Agency
Jennifer Craig-Norton, Volume 5, p.40

The British Government and the Kindertransport: Moving Away from the Redemptive Story

Kay Andrews, Volume 5, p.54

The End of Innocence: Kindertransport Children

Maryann McLoughlin, Volume 5, p.61

One Thousand Children-Jewish Refugee Children in the USA (1934–1945)

Judith Tydor Baumel-Schwartz, Volume 6, p.38

Revisiting the Voyage of the Damned

Rafael Medoff, Volume 6, p.63

The Transport to Life: A Class Project Reunites Survivors of the Holocaust With Their Liberators

Matthew Rozell, Volume 6, p.94

Making History: Beyond the Text

Colleen Tambuscio, with Lisa Bauman and Bonnie Sussman, Volume 6, p.101

Cartoonists Who Exposed the Holocaust—and How Students Can Learn From Them

Rafael Medoff, Volume 7, p.65

Sousa Mendes's List: From Names to Families

Olivia Mattis, Volume 7, p.72

Zofia Nałkowska: Medallions and the Bonds of Life

Jennifer Robertson, Volume 8, p.8

Janusz Korczak, Educator: Teaching Humanity in the Face of Evil

Sara Efrat Efron, Volume 8, p.18

A Portrait of a Student in a Hebrew Preschool in Bedzin, Poland

Galia Shenberg and Miriam Yeshaya, Volume 8, p.41

The Sternbuchs: Portrait of a Rescue Team

Brana Gurewitsch, Volume 8, p.50

Cissi Klein's Memorial: A Portrait in Bronze

Pnina Rosenberg, Volume 8, p.63

The American Press Reports the Holocaust: What Did We Really Know?

Ron Hollander, Volume 9, pg. 7

When Knowledge Did Not Lead to Action: American Jews and the Refusal of the US to Bomb Auschwitz

Rafael Medoff, Volume 9, pg. 17

The Jews Were Expendable: Free World Diplomacy and the Holocaust-Thirty Years Later

Monty Noam Penkower, Volume 9, pg. 76

Walls of Paper

Rafael Medoff, Volume 10, pg. 56